

Environmental Statement

Environmental protection is an inherent part of the integrated management system of both König companies. Management policy provides the following statements.

- Principle of legal conformity

The management of both König companies commits itself to comply with legal requirements and confers these commitments to employees and suppliers, too.

- Customer objectives

We aim to satisfy our customers. That is why we identify their requirements and implement them. Our aim is to increase customer satisfaction.

- Employee objectives

Management as well as all employees together implement company policy. Communication is cooperative and supportive in all ranks.

- Quality obligations

Management commits itself to permanently improve the effectiveness of the management system, the implementation is to be carried out in all ranks. All employees are jointly responsible and trained to recognize wrong specifications, to sort out flawed products and to initiate necessary corrections and preventive measures. Thus they are actively advancing the continuous improvement process.

- Environmental protection

Internal proceedings are assessed with regard to their environmental impact and devised to minimize potential risks. Secure processes prevent accidental emissions of hazardous materials.

- Occupational safety objectives

Equipment and operations as well as corresponding processes are assessed with regard to their potential for danger. Suitable safety devices and the provision of personal protective equipment counteract exposures and other hazards.
